

CAMA BOARD REPRESENTATIVE FOR ALBERTA

Troy Fleming
City Manager
City of Fort Saskatchewan, AB

Troy Fleming's journey in municipal government goes back 25 years through a variety of municipal settings and responsibilities. Troy's success is built on his people-focused approach and his belief in the importance of relationships, strong communication, data-based decisions, and authenticity.

Troy began working in municipal government in various roles at Strathcona County. In fact, he started his career in a part-time position and eventually worked his way up to a management role in recreation. In 2010, he had the opportunity to serve as the Chief Administrative Officer for the Town of Bruderheim, giving him appreciation for the challenges faced by small towns in rural settings. Troy became the General Manager of Infrastructure and Planning for the City of Fort Saskatchewan in 2012, a dynamic, growing city with a unique mix of industrial and residential areas. And in 2017 Troy was chosen as Fort Saskatchewan's City Manager where he continues to serve today.

Troy has a Bachelor's of Education, Bachelor's of Commerce, and a Master's of Business Administration with a specialization in Public Administration, all from the University of Alberta.

The City of Fort Saskatchewan has had numerous successes under his leadership, including high-profile petrochemical investments, the successful annexation of new lands to accommodate future population growth, and several significant investments in enhanced quality of life services such as recreation, fire services, and transit. If you ask him though, he will always note that his proudest accomplishment is building a resilient leadership team that supports a strong corporate culture that values continuous improvement and community spirit.

Having served on the CAMA Communications and Membership Committee, Troy helped bolster the membership and viability of the organization while undertaking direct recruitment of new members. His interest in the Board position is based on his strong belief in the importance of municipal leadership in supporting the health and wellbeing of all Canadians, and the role that CAMA can continue to play in supporting current and future municipal leaders from municipalities of all types and sizes.

This year, Troy will receive his 15 Year Service Award from CAMA. This is a testament to Troy's belief in the value CAMA has for the profession. The experience of municipal leaders has not gotten easier in recent years, and the need for an organization like CAMA to advocate for, and support, municipal leaders is more important than ever. While there is much uncertainty in our profession, he will tell you that CAMA members can always be relied on to be there for each other.
